Vo Cessation of Death's Doings-Doc tors and Nurses Offering Their Aid--- A Sad Spectacle.

MEMPHIS, August 9.- Up to noon today fifteen new cases of yellow fever were reported to the board of health, ten whites and five colored. Among the number are Mrs. M. A. Tilor and daughter, and Rev. J. H. Ridley (colored). Three deaths have occurred since last night, Mrs. Absalom Boyd, Mrs. Francis Getz and Lizzie Getzell. The weather continues cool. At daylight this morning the thermometer dropped to 64°, and at 12:30, p. m., it marked 75°. Ed. Moon is considered out of danger. CHICAGO, June 9.—In answer to a elegraphic request of the daily News, f this city, A.D. Langsdorff, president the Howard Association at Memphis. has sent a telegram giving the particulars of the condition of that city containing the following points: The total number of cases of yellow fever to this hour, within the city limits, officially recorded, is 330. Of this number 90 have died. In addition there have been about 20 cases and 5 deaths of Memphis refugees located within six miles of the city. The disease has not communicated to any of the surrounding towns on account of the rigid quarantine. The fever has increased in Memphis very perceptibly in the past ten days, and is reading from its original center. We anot hope for a discontinuance of the fever until trost. At least 30,000 persons have left the city, of whom 12,000 are located in camps Father Mathew and Marks, situated four and seven niles respectively from Memphis. There have been three cases in Camp arks and one death. There are at CHESTER, Pa., August 9.- The passenr steamer Mary Morgan, with a oonlight excursion numbering several undred on board, collided last night e mile above Fort Delaware with the roduce and freight propeller Pierre-ont, sinking her in fifteen feet of water. The passengers and crew of the Pierrepont, numbering twenty-two perso as, were taken on board of the Morgan and landed here. She was struck amidship and sank in fifteen minutes. The Morgan had her bow badly broken and her forward bulkheads filled with water, but her iron hull and watertight compartments prevented her sinking with her living freight. The damage to both vessels will amount to several thousand dollars besides the oss of the Pierrepont's freight, which cluded three thousand baskets of eaches and a large quantity of other

THE "BOODLE" MEN

YORK STRANGERS AND THEIR VICTIMS.

How a Young Man in Georgia spent $500 for Waste Paper---Chief Brooks' Warning.

New York Sun. One of the officials of New York has received from a respectable citizen of Cedar Grove, Georgia, a-letter showing the operations of a gang of "boodle" men who infest Gotham. This letter has been forwarded to secret service headquarters in this city. The writer says: "There is a set of counterfeiters in your city. They are doing considerable damage, I presume, all over the country. There is one young man living in this neighborhood, about ten miles southwest of Chattanooga, who has been actually swindled or bled to the amount of $500. They succeeded by their letters and promises to lead him to New York twice. The last time they agreed to let him have a large amount of their money for a small amount of genuine greenbacks. They put up their money in his presence in a small box directed to him at Chattanooga by express, keeping the receipt for the box. When he got home to Chattanooga he received the box. Opening it he found that it contained nothing but cut strips of paper instead of the $7,000 they put in it in his presence. There is another man who lives in this neighborhood, who has been skinned out of a good sum of money. The young man first men-tioned received several letters from them. They wrote to him, giving the numbers and streets of the houses in which they did business. The leading man in this matter was by the name of William Nelson, 42 Spring, 67 East Houston, 64 Santon, 155 Eldredge, 618 Broadway, 8th street and 3d avenue, and 102 Nassau street. Up stairs in a small room they keep their money and machinery for making it. The young man was in the room and saw a large amount of the counterfeit money. He said it looked very much like genuine greenbacks, and they told him it could not be detected.

HOW THE "BOODLE" MEN FISH FOR FOOLS. The writer sends copies of two of the letters sent to the swindled youth by Nelson. One reads: "Try and come here at once to git your goods. I want to circulate them at once; we are loosing time as well as yourself. I should have been away long ago. I have all your goods safe and sound. It is too dangerous for me to use the express. I will allow you a clean $1,000 for expenses, and please dont accuse me of doing anything wrong until I have done so, as I am an honest man to trade with. Why should I fool you?" I want a good agent in your parts. You act as true to me as I will to you, and heaven. Do not fail to come at once, prepared to invest enough to buy $10,-000. You will have no trouble in passing them.' Another letter says: "Come on at once, without delay. It is impossible for us to send by express, as we are closely watched, but you need not have the least fear; so come at once, and earry your goods home with you."

Another: "I sent you a box the other everything will be all right, as true as day, but it went astray. Your name was put on the wrong box, and it caused a sad mistake. Will explain it all when you come on. You can do big business, for me in your county. Several other letters advise the young man to borrow all he can before he comes to New York, as the "goods" that he will receive in return will go off like hot cakes, and the money borrowed can be paid back in fortyeight hours after he once gets to work. "Sell your horses if you have any and go into the business on a large scale, and in one year you can take my word you will never have to work again." The young man went on to New York and was skinned.

ADVICE FROM CHIEF OF SECRET SER-VICE BROOKS.

Chief Brooks has addressed the following letter to the Cedar Grove gentleman who gave the information: "Your communication to the mayor of New York city with reference to the young man's attempt to buy counter-ieit money, and I trust that every man who thus seeks to enrich himself at the expense of his neighbor may meet with similar punishment, as he assuredly will do if he deals with those New York sharpers and thieves. You write as though these people deal in counterfeit money. They do not. They are too sharp to touch a piece of counterfeit money; all the money their miserable dupes see are genuine notes, and though the dupe is permitted to handle the note in their office when once it leaves his hands it is changed on him and worthless paper substitu-ted. If your friend should in making another attempt to get counterfeit money from them hold on to the monev they sell to him and attempt to get out of New York with it he would be arrested by bogus policemen and taken to a bogus court of justice, and the good money would be taken from him on the pretence that it was counterfeit and was to be held and used as evidence against him, and all this be done in a manner that would so scare him that he would be glad to escape from the officers by paying a small consideration while on his way to the prison. which he would be permitted to do; and get out of the city like a fugitive from justice. These sharpers make hun-dreds of thousands of dollars every year by these practices out of would-be dishonest men, and no decent person can have the least sympathy for them who are thus swindled. We keep a list of suspected persons in this division, and when we learn of persons being swindled by such tricks as you have recited we enter their names on that list, because we consider such persons should be watched as we watch counterfeiters. I shall be pleased to receive from you the names of all persons in your neighborhood who have been swindled, and inform such that if their experience leads them to steer clear of counterfeiters hereafter, it will, by saving them from the penitentiary, have been money well spent.

Sa-luting the Bride Detroit Free Press.

There was a marriage at the upper end of the Detroit, Lansing and North-ern Road the other day. A great big chap, almost able to throw a car-load of lumber off the track, fell in love with a widow who was cooking for the hands in a saw-mill, and after a week's acquaintance they were married. The boys around the mill lent William Mary is, and I'm the rightbower in a new pack of keerds. Conductor, salute the bride!"

The man hesitated. The widow had freckles and wrinkles and a turn-up nose, and kissing the bride was no gratification.

"Conductor, sa-lute the bride or look out for tornadoes!" continued William as he rose up and shed his coat. as he rose up and shed his coat.

The conductor sa-luted. It was the best thing he could do just then.

"I never did try to put on style before," muttered William, "but I'm bound to see this thing through if I have to fight all Michigan. These 'ere passengers has got to come up to the chalk, they has."

The car was full. William walked

The car was full. William walked down the aisle, waved his hand to command attention, and said: "I've just been married; over thar sets the bride. Anybody who wants to sa-lute the bride kin now do so. Anybody who don't want to, will hev cause to believe that a tree fell on him!" One by one the men walked up and kissed the widow, until only one was left. He was asleep. William reached over and lifted him into a sitting position at one movement and manded: "Ar' ye goin' to dust over thar' and kiss the bride?" "Blast your bride, and you, too!"

growled the passenger.
William drew him over the back of the seat, laid him down in the aisle, tied his legs in a knot and was making a bundle of him just of a size to go through the window, when the man caved and went over and sa-luted. "Now, then," said William, as he put on his coat, "this bridle tower will be resumed as usual, and if Mary and me squeeze hands or git to laying heads on each other's shoulders I shall demand to know who laffed about it, and I'll make him e-magine that I'm a hull boom full of the biggest kind of saw-logs, an' more comin' down on the rise. Now, Mary, hitch along an' let me git my arm around ye!"

WHERE STEWART'S BODY LIES. In a Temporary Receptacle at Garden City Cathedral Until the Crypt is Completed. New York Star, 8th.

The secrecy attending the removal of the body of A. T. Stewart, and the manner in which it is guarded in its present resting place at Garden City, fur-nishes another proof of the shrewdness with which the whole affair has been managed.

Superintendent Walling and his men knew little or nothing about the movements of the large corps of private de-tectives employed by Mr. Hilton. The latter located the remains within a very few weeks, and so informed Mr. Hil-ton, who at that time and frequently since has stated to a gentleman in whom he places much confidence, that the police knew nothing of what was going

When the body came into possession of Mrs. Stewart it was taken to Garden City, as stated in the Star of yesterday. A full history of the negotiations attending the recovery of the body is in possession of a journalist of this city, but Mr. Hilton objects to its being published until the cathedral at Garden City is finally completed. In that great edifice a place has been reserved for the remains. At the westernmost side of the church, directly under the altar, a vault has been constructed in which the remains will be laid. This vault is octagonal in shape, and extends quite a distance beneath the floor of the basement. It is really a masterplace for ment. It is really a masterpiece, for its sides are constructed of marble slabs of every possible hue and color, sculptured in the highest style of art, and it is said by architects and artists who have examined it that there is no structure equal to it in this country. When the work is completed two sarcophagi of white marble will be placed inside the vault, and they will be the final receptacle of the remains. Meanwhile the body lies in a temporary receptacle in the basement, several feet below the floor, and carefully guarded until its removal to the crypt.

The frequent denials from police sources of the recovery of the body are of little consequence, coming from an uninformed quarter. On one occasion, when Superintendent Walling's efforts in the case were mentioned to Judge Hilton, he dismissed the subject with the remark that the services of that official and his subordinates had not been called into requisition in the case, and nothing whatever had been accomplished through them; hence their ignorance of the results that had been #### reached. A WHOLE TOWN DRUNK. The Dark Objects That Encumbered

the Ground at Argenta. Little Rock Gazette, 4th. Last night the city press, chief of police, city collector and Officer Adams, went over to Argenta to investigate the condition of affairs in town. After landing, the party had not proceeded far up the main street, when a dark object lying on the ground attracted attention.
The lowering of a lantern developed the fact that we had found drunk No. 1. He, for of course it was a man, seemed to be lifeless, and even after the administration of sundry shakes he did not evince more life than an attempt at turning over, which feat was executed very poorly, as he had evidently "guzzled" several quarts of "strike-from the shoulder" whisky. After leaving No. 1, no other signs of the other than the shoulder of the other than tive or dead drunkenness were met until the party arrived at the depot house.

There lay Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5, and in fact so many that, as this is not a mathematical article, it would be useless to enum cal article, it would be useless to enumerate them. Some lay as though dead, and only had strength enough left to work their jaws, an ineffectual attempt to talk. Others did not even possess that much life, and only evinced that they were living by snorting up the fumes of bad whisky and swamp breaths. This scene would have appeared more like an apparition than a reality to a man whose life had been mainly devoted to superintendbeen mainly devoted to superintending Sunday sesools, but to a man acquainted with life in its every phase, and especially with the fact tha one hundred and fifty railroad hands had been paid off, it seemed more like a reality than it could have seemed a goblin-hash-up creation of Sylvanus Cobb. Here the numbering ceased, Cobb. Here the numbering ceased, and if any one of the party started out with the intention of labeling all the drunken men he certainly abandoned it when he reached this point. From the depot we went to Barna's hotel, and if the abandening idea when leaving the depot had not settled into a determination, it certainly did here. On the ground, on the platform, in the back yard, everywhere lay men in back yard, everywhere lay men in drunken sleep. With mouths open, emitting the horrid spew of dog-like intoxication, and sending up to poison the air an odor, enough to breed a

FASTING FORTY DAYS.

A PENNSYLVANIA GIRLSTARVING HERSELF.

Obeving a Desire to Imitate Christin the Wilderness, She Refuses to take any Food Whatever.

Philadelphia Times, 7th. READING, August 5.- The strange fasting of Miss Sarah Root, aged twenty eight, of No. 314 South Sixth street. this city, is attracting unusual attention, not only among the medical fraternity, but among the citizens in general. She is a tall young lady, with dark hair and dark eyes, and of excellent character. Herself an I sisters are respectable dress-makers, serving same of the best people of Reading. A few years ago Miss Root was an accomplished belle. She dressed in exceeding good taste, and always made a very fashionable appearance. Suddenly she became very devout and pious. Her attendance at Rev. Dr. Schmucker's St. James' Lutheran congregation deeply interested in Sunday school affairs, and up to last 4th of July she was in good health. She then discontinued eating and commenced a long period of fasting.

From July 4th to 11th she ate but a few berries. Then she stopped eating altogether. On the 14th of July Dr. F. R. Schmucker was called in. Miss Root turned her back and said she was not in need of his professional attention. She persistently refused to take any nourishment, and throughout all the hot spell she drank no water at all. Finally she was threatened that food would be administered to her by force.

was almost constant. She became

She was growing pale, thin and ema-ciated. Her former rosy cheeks had faded, the sparkle had left her eyes and she became moody, thoughtful and silent. She became frightened at the doctor's threat, and taking an ordinary cracker, she held it under the hydrant and thoroughly washed it. On the 18th of July she ate that cracker, but took no other nourishment.

Dr. Schmucker undertook to con vince her that it was her religious duty to eat and not kill herself; that instead of it being her religious duty to fast she was slowly committing the great crime of suicide. She paid no attention to this. Basin after basin of water was used in bathing her hands. First, she would fill a basin with pure water and wash her hands; then she would empty it, get another basin full and again wash her hands. She would continue this washing for a half hour. She has been known to have spent five hours on her knees, reading the Bible and praying. She had a desire to fast forty days and forty nights, "the same as Christ did in the wilderness," she said. All efforts mother and sister failed to induce her to eat and drink. Finally Dr. Schmucker says he stopped calling on her, because he could do nothing for her. Dr. Martin Luther was next called in. When her nostrils were held shut she breathed through the interstices of her teeth, but would not swallow. Finally Dr. Luther inserted a silver tube through her nostrils and injected gruel and milk into the gullet and thence to the stomach. Only a small quantity was injected, The membranous lining of the stomach was greatly inflamed and too much food administered would have killed her instantly. The young woman is now being kept alive by forcing water through her nostrits into her stomach. She is laboring under a religious hallucination, and are entertained that she cannot live long. She is said to be quite intelligent and she has no fears, saying that she guesses it will end all right. Today she made no resistance to the tube day she made no resistance to the tube being inserted in her nose, but she positively refused to take any food or vater.

MR. M'CRARY'S BLOOD UP.

Chairman Hatton Charged With Spoiling His Judicial Prospects, Washington Post, 8th. Secretary McCrary, so-called, has about reached the conclusion that he cannot be confirmed as United States

Judge by the Democratic Senate, and consequently is "exceeding wroth." He says he has been destroyed in the house of his friends; that treacherous Republicans have compassed his defeat, and that Frank Hatton, publisher of the Burlington Hawkeye, and chairman of the lowa Republican State Central committee, is the wicked man who has demolished his judicial prospects. Therefore Mr. McCrary is after Hatton's political scalp, and he swears he means to have it ere long. The Hawk-eye man has been unfriendly to the War secretary for a long time, and has been a great obstacle in the way of the latter's ambition. McCrary says Hatton's hostility to him grew out of his refusal to give the Hawkeye a sight at some Government money; that Hatton wanted all the advertising connected with the improvements in the Mis-sissippi river along the Iowa shore, and demanded that he should direct the engineer officer in charge of the works to use the columns of the Hawkeye when he had anything to advertise. This McCrary declined; the avertising went elsewhere, and Hatton has been going for him ever since. This is the secretary's account of the affair, but Mr. Hatton, when heard from, may have a very different story to tell. The Radical Congressional commit-tee in Washington are the friends of McCrary in this fight, and altogether they promise to give Hatton his hands full of business. The charge is made that $10,000 in cash sent to Iowa last fall by the committee to help along the election of Radical congressmen, is still unaccounted for; that none of the sum was expended in the campaign, nor has any balance ever been returned to Washington. The committee and Mo-Crary do not say that Hatton appropriated this money, but that he, as chairman of the State committee, was re-sponsible for its expenditure as directed and that not having been done, is now responsible for its return. They say further that had the chairman of the State committee performed his duty and put this money to a good use, two Republican Congressmen would not have been defeated. Chairman Hatton has been notified that he must send to Washington immediately an itemized account of the expenditure of this money, and the committee say if he can show that it was used for the Republi-

Grain of all kinds is selling high, while merchandise is really cheap; hence the farmer has a fine chance for profit. The citizens of Winston and Salem near the line, were throughly eroused and exceedingly entertained and some badly terrified last night about 2 o'clock by a series of load songs, resounding prayers, intolerable whoops and yells, indescribable groans, piteous moans, the dragging of chains, and in short a noise as if Pluto had un-chained his entire demoniac legions and opened gloomy Tartarus under or into the house of a very quiet colored family in the vicinity. ### A Case of Petty Pilfering.

savannah Morning News. Secretary Sherman's speech at Portland, Maine, was sent in pamphlet form to most or all of the newspapers two or three days in advance of delivery. The three days in advance of denivery.

Morning News received two copies, postage paid. The Utica (N. Y.) Observer, which received a copy, notices the fact that the package was sealed and therefore came under the rate of letter postage. But it was not covered by the ordinary stamps with which the people are familiar. Says the Observer: "In place of them we found twenty-four postages are stamped for the evaluation of the same is the expension of the same is the cents in stamps issued for the exclusive use of the Treasury Department."
When the franking privilege was abolished each department of the gov-ernment was required to propay its postage. But that a true account may be kept of its actual expenditures in that line separate stamps were provided for the different departments. These were furnished to the Secretary without cost, but with the distinct understanding that he was to use them only for official business. The understanding was not a mere matter of personal henor, but of law. The statute declares that it is a misdemeanor for any officer of any department to use one of these stamps for any purpose other than official business. It denounces a penalty of $300 fine against the man who shall thus offend. "Now," says the Observer, "we want to know why Sherman used Treasury postage stamps in transmitting advance copies of his speech to the Observer? We also want to know why sherman want to be observed. to know where he got those stamps? He could not have bought them, for they are not for sale. With all his audacity he will hardly pretend that a partisan harangue devoted to the abuse of the majority of the people falls within the line of the government's official business. He could not, therefore, have obtained the samps in a legitimate way and for a legitimate purpose. Did he steal them? And if he did has he paid his fine yet, and is this his first offense? It is plain that after all these years of feebleness and torpor, the business of the country has taken new life, and that we are entering once more on a season of prosperity. The crops are bountiful, and the prices not only good, but promising to be even better. The demand for manufactured goods of all descriptions is steadily increasing, and wheels upon which cobwebs and rust had accumulated once more begin to look bright, and to take on the welcome hum which tells of an awakened industry.

Little Rock (Ark.) Gazotte. Information reaches us that the Sharp county "fire man" is still burning. This affair is, indeed, very wonderful -wonderful in two respects-wonderful if true and wonderful if not true. Wonderful in the not true sense, because people of Sharp county, some of them, believe the story. At night, so the story goes, the man resembles a moving illumination. His nose is as a taper, and his eyes as red lanterns. Several nights ago he appeared to a party of fishermen. Coming up spddenly, accompanied by a glare and fearfully flickering lights that flared with the wind, he awakened the most augmented terror. He did not speak, but stood glaring at the men, and when they ran away he followed them. A history of the man as near as can be obtained, says that several years ago he was a well-to-do farmer. Though a kind-hearted man, he was exceedingly profane and was never at loss for an oath. A protracted religious meeting was sprung at a school-house in his neighborhood. His wife, a very religious woman, persisted in attending, and nights, when she came home, her husband would hear nothing else but the bright way in which some neigh-bor came through, or how devout Brother Perkins proved himself. The man argued with his wife and told her man argued with his wife and told her that there was no Christ, no God, no Devil. "Look" said he, "into the Christ matter. The Testament says that at the crucifixion of Jesus the world grew suddenly dark and the earth shook. The Grecian and Roman astronomers of those days were learned. Why did they not transmit accounts of the same as a same table phenoments." His wife, "simple-minded and unread," did not attempt to answer his argument, but with that characteristic faith of an Olintheus, continued to nightly sit within the sound of the gospel. The man—Hamlin is his name, which fact should have been mentioned before—gradually lost his reason and vowed that if his wife did not quit attending church he would burn down the building. This threat though made passionately, was more than a passing declaration. night after his wife had gone, Hamlin took a chunk of fire from the fire-place, and moved off toward the school-house When he arrived the minister was painting a glorious picture for the good, and giving to the bad a miserable chromo. Hamlin, unobserved, stole to one corner of the house. He blew the firebrand till it blazed. He laid it down thered splinters and Then, igniting them, he thrust the blazing faget and grasses under one corner of the house. He fed the fire with sticks and chips, and when he saw that the fire would "go" he yelled demoniacly and dashed away through the woods. The congregation was star-tled by an outery, but, hearing no rep-etition, again gave way to the influence

The superstitious congregation like sheep crowded together like sheep, and the minister himself frightened, ran from the house followed by his entire flock, The house burned down, and when Mrs. Hamlin went home shed found her husband tossing on his bed. He said that he was burning up, and before water could be lifted to his mouth it became boiling hot. Suddenly, he sprang out of bed. Every hair on his head seemed a blaze of fire. Currents of fire ran from his ears into his nostrils. With a wild vell he ran from the house, and ever since then he has been burning. There are hundreds who will vouch for this improbable

Cincinnati Commercial. Last year when the epidemic was raging in Memphis, among the Cincin-nati physicians who tendered their services and lives to Health Officer Minor was young Dr. Collins of this city, and unusually bright and intellectual man, who was making a precarious living at his practice, not through lack of ability, for of that he had abundance, but from the lack of patients.

His services, together with five others were accepted, and on a certain evening they all went to the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad depot to take the 9:30 a train for the South. Young Collins in taking leave of the health officer, who taking leave of the health officer, who had gone down to see the little band off, said: "Doctor, I will either make a reputation in Memphis or never come home again." Within a short time the doctor himself, worn down by unceasing labor, was smitten with the scourge, and lay tossing feverishly in his small room. The young lady, hearing of the circumstance, went to the house and nursed him tenderly through his illness.

It is almost needless to say that by this time the youthful pair became mutually attached, a proposal and acceptance followed, to which consent was unhesitatingly given by the parent. They were afterward married, the father investing his new son-in-law with a handsome interest in his large plantation. SUNDAY - - - - AUGUST 10, 1879.

THE Springfield Republican says Sherman's speeches "point with pride too much and do not get a sufficient grasp on the future." They are open to that objection-among others.

During the past year no less than 30,000,000 acres of government land have been taken up or sold by the govment to settlers. It is estimated that fully five hundred thousand people have settled on these new lands. It is thought that even a larger number will move on new lands during the coming

THERE has not been a successful strike this summer. Working men have lost much and gained nothing. Why cannot a system of arbitration be agreed upon, by which all questions of wages may be amicably settled? Strikes benefit no class, but injure all classes. And more than that, they tell most cruelly on the families of those whose only capital is their labor.

THE loud demands of the colored voters of Ohio for recognition in the local nominating conventions of the Republican party, have been treated with customary contempt. There is a good deal of grumbling, and there will be some bolting. The colored brethren are not so much "like dumb, driven cattle" as they were years ago. When they were running the thirty-fourth range at night years ago, they were expected to keep silence, and they are still and always will be expected to Official returns show that during the twelve months ending June, 141,931 emigrants arrived at New York, against 103,062 the year previous-a gain of 88,-869. The New York Commercial Bulletin says:

The outlook for the year to come is even more favorable, all the steamship lines, who are always well informed in this matter, anticipating a heavy increase from the British islands as well as the continent. Bismarck's tariff and military preparations must stimulate the German movement, while the agricultural distress in Ireland and the industrial depression in England can scarcely fail to swell the exodus from

THE Cleveland Plaindealer, after a thorough study of the entire State of Ohio, is convinced that the Democrats will have a majority of sixteen in the Senate, not including Hamilton county (Cincinnati), which the Democrats can ignore and still retain a majority in the Legislature on joint ballot. This is gratifying news, as this Legislature will have a United States Senator to and should the Republicans succeed in securing a majority the Democrats of the country would lose the valuable services of that distinguished gentleman in the Senate, where he has led their forces for years.

THE Philadelphia Record has the following to say about the "drummers" license law:"

Several States have upon their statute books laws which act as restrictions upon commerce between the States. These laws aim to encourage the local merchants by compelling drummers from another State to pay an excessive license tax. It connot be doubted that such a law is unconstitutional. The Texas Legislature recently passed an act directing that merchants and manufacturers desiring to send drummers into the State shall pay in advance an annual tax of $200. Evasions of the law are to be severely punished. Apparently the ill-informed Texas legislators imagine that the way to enrich their State is to stand at the borders and compel all who approach to pay

WHEN the Detroit Free Press expressed its fears of a future ice famine by stating that an insect would soon be found that would eat up the ice crop, or a germ that would make it poisonous, it was understood as a joke, but it turns out to be close to the truth. The Popular Science Monthly has been investigating our ice and finds much of it filled with typhoid fever germs. Large quantities of ice are taken from streams that are either the natural or artificial recipients of surface drainage and the outpourings of sewers. Such ice, though clear and transparent, is dangerous not only in itself, but all milk, butter, fruits and vegetables which come in close proximity with it are similarly infected. It would therefore be well for those who have ponds from which ice is taken to take measures for pure water before the freezing times arrives.

THE "AMIABLE POLICY."

When President Hayes announced his policy of conciliation, withdrew the troops garrisoning Southern cities, a hopeful feeling was awakened in the breasts of the people who had been so long under legislative exaction and military domination. Invitations were extended to Northern capitalists to come and visit us, that they might take into consideration the advisability of establishing trade and manufacture. It was thought that when the prominent, reliable men of the two sections came together they would be able to combine their interests with mutual advantage. Industries sprang up; those who had been prosperous business men in ante-bellum days put forth their best efforts to make the South flourish as in the olden time. Our people were alive to the fact that we needed men and money, and immigration was heartily encouraged. There were many good words spoken for us in the Northern press, irrespective of party, and they found favor with their constituency.

But throughout all this revival of kindred feeling there was one journal that decried these efforts, denounced the President's policy, and published from day to day the doings in the "lawless South," and when perchance a day passed without a murder fell back on the Chisolm affair until something new should turn up. That paper was the New York Tribune-not Horace Greely's Tribune, but Jay Gould's paper of that name; the organ of the gambling gold-brokers and railroad stock-wreckers. Always prophecy that Sherman will have under a fair guise, making pretense of than Grant. The prediction is a tolergood wishes, full of advice on this or that question, this paper has proven run the local conventious, of course; a worse enemy to the conquered section then all the armies that came down on us throughout the war. Not a business enterprise that would aid in putting us on our feet again has been mooted but the Tribune has sneered at it, and its comments have been of a nature to deter emigration to this section. In this it has acted the part of a petty partisan rather than that of a great and influential journal. In a long editorial in Thursday's issue it takes grounds of congratulation that the President has found "the amiable policy impracticable," and that he will now retrieve the errors of the past: that his policy was a pleasing but now exploded delusion; that the Republican party "looks with composure upon the fact, which this experiment has developed, that the present generation of Southern Democrats is implacable, and that so long as they can, by fraud and violence, control the South and keep it solid, they will do it, and will endeavor, with the aid of Northern Democrats, to reverse the results of the war. We have had amiable expressions from such men as Senator Lamar and Representative Gibson, but in so far as these utterances are concerned, they have no constituencies to support them. Public sentiment at the South, among the whites or ruling classes, is still hostile to the Government, unless it can be ruled by the Democratic party, and the Democratic party can be controlled by the South." This may be the case; perhaps the Tribune understands the feelings of the Southern people better than they do themselves. But if the state of affairs be as quoted above why does the Tribune claim constantly increasing accessions to the Republican ranks-so large in fact as to have carried Florida and Louisiana at the last Presidential election, with the ability to do the same again? Is it a case of stultification? or does the Tribune pin its faith on returning boards? There is a hole in the argument somewhere.

THE PROTECTIVE SYSTEM. The Transfer of English Skilled La bor to America. Brooklyn Eagle.

The depression of trade in Europe is stimulating emigration to this country, and the rising trade will not ebb until the labor market of the world has transferred enough of its surplus skill and muscle to this continent to make the conditions of successful industry very nearly equal all round. By a natural law, which cannot be evaded trade tends to the equalization of values everywhere. Making due allowance for the love of home, which induces the Celt and the Saxon to forego many advantages rather than leave the place of their birth, it is inevitable that the artisans of Europe will come to America so long as the prospect here is more encouraging than in their own country. It is the non-recognition of this law which makes the fundamental fallacy of the so called protective system

The protective system never has increased the average income of labor in the United States, and never can, for one effect of shutting our ports to the products of European skill has been to bring the workmen to our shores. Wages are regulated by competition, and since the competition is not diminished in the least by forcing the artisan to live here rather than in the British isles, or in France, or in Germany, it is obvious that protection so called must prove a delusion and a snare. This, it is clear, is now recognized by the great majority of Americans who have troubled themselves to master the first principles of politica economy, and it has been so abundant-ly illustrated for successive years, that he ignorance which still remains untaught must be regarded as incorrigi-ble. Lord Derby, in the course of an address delivered a few weeks ago on the prostration of trade in England, uttered an elementary truth when he declared that the permanent remedy in any quack devices such as tariffs for the exclusion of foreign goods from the British market. his entire business to the United States. It is hardly necessary to inquire whether changes like this tend to raise the wages of American cutlers. Since wages are regulated by competition, it can make no difference to the workman

A SPECIALTY. Repairing Promptly and Carefully Done. Talbott's Patent Spark Arrester.

THE INVENTION OF THE AGE. Talbott's new Patent Spark Arrester is really the only perfect and reliable one, and is superseding all others in use. The great efficiency of this Arrester is attracting universal attention, and is being endorsed by the best mechanical engineers and insurance companies

Its prominent features are:

It does not destroy the draft. It does not interfere with cleaning the tubes. It will not choke up, and requires no cleaning.

It requires no direct dampers to be opened when raising steam (dampers being objectionable, as they may be left pen and allow sparks to escape.) It requires no water to extinguish sparks, which, by condensation, destroys the draft. Besides, when water is used, if neglected, the efficiency is destroyed by evaporation of the water, and the boiler is kept in a filthy condition.

It can be attached to any boiler. No planter should be without one of them. Insurance companies will insure gins and barns where the Talbott Engines and Spark Arresters are used at same rate as harged for water or horse-power.

MECKLENBURG COUNTY, VIRGINIA. THE GREAT TONIC AND ALTERATIVE WATERS OF THE most Valuable Tonic Water of the United States.

23-ANALYSIS of this Spring, made by Prof. Wm. P. Tonry, of the Maryland Institute Baltimore, March 17, 1877: Results expressed in grains per imperial gallon, shows it to contain 3,714 grains of the Carbonate of Iron, which is recognized by all medical men as in comparably the most potent and valuable form in which iron can be used as a Tonic. A comparison of this analysis with that of other chalybeate waters of the American Continent shows that the Buffalo Lithia Spring No. 3 contains a larger percentage of CARBO. NATE OF IRON than any other Mineral Water in Virginia, and, with one exception, a larger percentage than any other Mineral Water in the United States. Between this water and chalybeate waters generally there is one important difference. Chalybeat, waters, as a general rule, are ASTRINGENT. The water of Spring No. 3 is APERIENT-rendered so by the Carbonate of Potash.

With this powerful BLOOD TONIC, in conjunction with the manous Buffalo Lithia Springs No. 2 (which contains a larger percentage of the Bi-carbonate of Lithia than any known Mineral Water,) one of the most powerful alterative waters of the world, and which is attributed by many eminent medical men a peculiar power as "a Nerve Tonic it would seem to be a self-evident proposition that these Springs offer inducements to them in search of health, found newhere else upon the American Continent.

"It is dangerous work for women to play with souls," says Mrs. Burnett. It certainly is; but some recent expe-riences show that it is still more dangerous for thera to play with base balls. Buffalo Express.

Infallibly Cure all Skin and Scalp Dis-eases, Scaly Eruptions, Itchings, and Irritations

The testimonials of permanent cures of Skin and Scalp Diseases which have been the torture of a lifetime, by the Cuticura Remedies, are more wonderful than any methods or remedies known to the medical methods or remedies known to the medical profession.

Cuticura Resolvent, a powerful Blood Purifier, is the only purifying agent which finds its way into the circulating fluid and thence through the oil and sweat glands to the surface of the skin, thus destroying the poisonous elements with which these vessels have been daily charged. Cuticura, The Great Skin Cure, applied externally, arrests all unnatural or morbid growth which cover the surface of the diseased glands and tubes with Scaly, Itching, and Irritating Humors, speedily it removes them, leaving the pores open, healthy, and free from diseased particles of matter.
Thus internally and externally do these great remedies act in conjunction, performing cures that have astonished the most noted physicians of the day.

Salt Rheum for 30 Years On the Head, Face, and Greater Par-of the Body, Cured.

of the Body, Cured.

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen, I have been a great sufferer with Salt Rheum for 30 years, commencing in my head and face and extending over the greater part of my body. I have taken gallons of medicines for the blood of different kinds and tried good physicians, all of which did me no good, and I came to the conclusion that I could not be cured. But a friend called my attention to an article in the Union on skin diseases, and I got a box of Cuticura. The first application was a great relief and the third took the scales all off, and I felt like a new man. I have used three 50-cent boxes and my skin is smooth and I consider myself entirely cured. Hoping that this may be seen by some one afficted as I have been (if there is any) is my earnest wish. And I cheafully recommend it to all persons afflicted with like diseases.

Yours truly,
B. WILSON LORD.

Messrs. Wreks & Potter: Gentlemen.—
We have a case of Leprosy in our poorhouse which is being cured by your Cuticura rem edies The county had employed all of our doctors and had sent to New York for advice, but to no avail.

The patient commenced using the Cuticura and immediately began getting better.
He had been confined to his bed for two and one half years. Had not had his clothes on during this time. Last week he dressed for the first time.

When he walked, there would at least one quart of scales come off of him.
This happened every day.
We think it is a wonderful cure.
We do not think he is cured, but he is in a fair way to be cured to say the least.

Yours truly,

DUNNING BROTHERS,
Druggists and Booksellers.
Allegan, Mich., Feb. 11, 1879.
NOTE.—Messrs. Dunning Brothers are thoroughly reliable gentlemen, and were unknown to us prior to the receipt of this letter. We firmly believe this Cuticura will permanently cure this very severe case of Leprosy, as it has done many others.

He was received with the customary salute, and seemed pleased to get ashore from the tug which landed him at the Yard. The weather-beaten old sall was much bronzed by his trip across the East River, but gave no evidence of having suffered from the sea-sickness which generally attacks him when on the briny deep. The Secretary carefully inspected several old barrels lying about the Yard, lut they were empty, and he passed on, looking quite serious. He called attention to several bursted cannon and advised that they be repaired. Then he broke a suspender in trying to lift a 150-pound shell. The Secretary seemed particularly well pleased with the ap-pearance of the marines. After a short walk in the Yard he inspected the Shen andoah through a glass of soda water and started for home. He wanted to cross over on the East River Bridge, but the captain of the tug assured him #### that the water was quite smooth. Serious Runaway Accident.

Norfolk Virginian, 9th. Yesterday afternoon as Chief Engineer King, now stationed at Gosport Navy yard, was driving a fine stud of horses along one of the streets in the upper portion of the city, one of the hind wheels of the vehicle in which Mr. King's wife, mother and two small children and a colored woman, gave way and let the axle down on the ground the accident, which occurred on the corner of Boush and Queen streets, so frightened the horses that that they immediately started off in a run down the latter thoroughfare. Mr. King's mother and one of the children and the nurse were soon thrown out, but the other three occupants of the carriage kept, their places until they had reached James street, where an effort on the part of a gentleman to stop the horses caused them to shy to one side very suddenly, when Mr-King, his wife and the other child were also thrown to the ground. The frightened horses continued their flight down Queen street and through Brambleton. The ladies and children were shown into the house in the immediate neighborhood, when it was ascertained that they had all sustained injuries of a more or less serious na ure. The oldest child, a girl about eight years of age, received a severe wound on the back of the head and was probably more dangerously injured than any of the others. The elder Mrs. King received a severe cut in the neck, and the younger child was bruised considerably about the head. Mr. King, his wife and the colored woman were we learned not dangerously hurt.

Proposed Reorganization of the State Republican Organization.

Baltimore Sun, 9th. For some time past the Republican politicians in Washington have been striving hard to secure from the President permission for a reorganization of those political machines known as State associations. These associations were made up from the people of this city in the service of the government, the object being to keep the members in good discipline for voting purposes when the time for the elections round. During the Grant administra erful levers in a campaign, and their officers were the most influential men in a party sense. They gave a full sup-port to the election of Hayes, but when that gentleman got fairly seated in the Executive Mansion, he began to study their organization and methods, and the result was that he reached the conclusion that they were pernicious to the good of the civil service of the government, and he therefore ordered that they be disbanded. Lately the Repub-lican leaders here have been of the opinion that the President was not looking at things politically in the same light as when he first began, and in the matters of these State associa-tions particularly he had changed his views as to their perniciousness, and would not be adverse to their revival. But at the meeting of the cabinet todaughter of J. C. S., and Florence C. Harris, aged five years and six months.

The funeral services will take place at the new cemetery to-day at 4 o'clock.

State associations was discussed with all the gravity of a great question of State, and the final decision was in the tion attribute their defeat to the special opposition of Secretaries Evarts and Schurz,

Ohio Politics.

Washington Post, 9th. Governor R. M. Bishop, of Ohio, arrived in New York yesterday. As he was leaving the hotel, on his way down town, a reporter greeted him with the query: "How is the election in your State going this fall, Governor?" "Both parties claim it. I have not been in Ohio for ten days, but in Chicago and Pennsylvania. The contest will be very close and exciting." "You are reported as not taking an interest in the election, and as not caring which way it goes." "I am reported wrong. Some fellow in Bradford, Pennsylvania, in-terviewed me; I didn't say twelve words altogether, and he published ha.f a column." Don't you think the Democrats can carry the State?' hope so, as a matter of course; but we can't say for certain." The Governor said he did not want to be re-nomi nated for Governor of Ohio, and was not disappointed when he was not. He is evidently interested in other matter now more than in the Ohio Canvass.

Indian Affairs.

Baltimore Sun, 9th. Our Washington correspondent states Our Washington correspondent states that advices from the Flat Head Indian agency, Montana Territory, state that ten lodges of Nez Perces deserted White Bird's band, and asked permission to live on the Flat Head reservation. The request was submitted to the agent, who decided that if they entered the reservation they would have to surrenreservation they would have to surrender as prisoners. No further communication followed. Eight of the deserters were attacked by a war party, supposed to be Gros Ventres, and massacred

Secretary Schurz now expects to leave for Cincinnati, August 20th, and after a speech in that city will visit the Red Cloud and Spotted Tail Indian apencies and other points on the upper Missouri, thence to Denver, Colorado, and Indian Territory, stepping to see the Indiana Fair, September 30th.

Narrow Escape of the King of Spain MADRID, August 9.-Full accounts of the accident to King. Alfonso on his way from the Escurial to Lagranja, returning from the funeral of his sister, the Infanta Marie del Pilar, show that he and the Princess of Asturias, who accompanied him, had an exceedingly narrow escape. The axle of their car-niage broke while passing a precipice; but the postillion contrived to swerve the vehicle to the opposite side of the road, thus avoiding a fall by which the whole party must have been killed.

BARR, Esq., Bovine, Mississippi—Dear Sir: Your inquiry in regard to the "Liver case" which was effectually "Liver case" which was effectually cured in my family from using the "Seven Springs Mass," is before me. The case referred to in my certificate was that of my wife's sister, who is now in her 80th year, and has been a member of my family for the last 27 years. She had been afflicted with Liver Disease for 30 years, sometimes almost dying with pains in the back, breast, and heaviness of the chest, breast, and heaviness of the chest, heart-burns (intensely), sick stomach, vomiting, &c. I procured a few bottles of the "Mass" for her, and very soon after she began the use of it, her health commenced to get better, and she continued steadily to improve, and at this writing, so old, seemingly in as good health as a person who had never been afflicted with these diseases. She attributes her cure entirely to the efficacy of the "Seven Springs Mass." I regard it one of the greatest family medicines we have access to, not only for such diseases as above indicated, but for vadiseases as above indicated, but for various other complaints for which it is recommended.
